Wild card · District 3

Steve Novick: if you rank him, rank him last.

He voted for the ban on masked officers, but sided with the business bloc on 52 of 79 split votes, and 25% of his named donors also gave to Republicans or Portland conservatives.

% = share of each candidate’s named individual donors since 2023 who also gave to Republican campaigns or Portland conservatives. Method and receipts: whosbuyingpdx.com/receipts.html

Rank the people you want to win. Then stop.

Your first choice comes first.

Ranking someone 2nd or 3rd never hurts your 1st choice.

Your vote keeps working.

If your first choice wins or is knocked out, your vote moves to your next choice.

Leave the rest blank.

Anyone you rank can end up with your vote. It's fine to rank one, two or three people.

One bubble per column.

Don't give two people the same rank. Council districts elect three people; the Chair race elects one.

Tiffany Koyama Lane

WHY RANK HER

A Portland public school teacher for 16 years, Tiffany is the first Asian American woman elected to Portland City Council. In her first year, her colleagues unanimously elected her the council's first-ever vice president. She led the city's Vision Zero work to end traffic deaths, wrote protections for every kind of family into Portland's civil rights code, and went through the budget line by line to save 14 tree-care jobs.

> "the socialist councilor we most trust to reach across whatever constitutes an aisle"
> — WILLAMETTE WEEK

2,509 small-donor gifts 95% were $100 or less

0 of 269 named donors also gave to Republicans or Portland conservatives

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 3

RANK 1 or 2

What Tiffany has done

- Vision Zero. Led the city's work to end traffic deaths, and co-sponsored dedicating 12.5% of the transportation utility fee to it.
- Every family. Added family and relationship structure to Portland's civil rights protections. Passed 11–0.
- Trees and parks. Restored $3.2 million to keep 14 tree permitting staff in the 2026 budget.
- Police accountability. Voted to keep $10 million in the oversight office voters created.
- Steady hands. Helped guide the council when the Trump administration tried to send National Guard troops to Portland.

WHY BIG MONEY WANTS HER OUT

She voted no on the Blazers arena deal and the Zenith oil terminal franchise. The Chamber-aligned United for Portland is backing her opponents.

ENDORSED BY

Willamette Week (#2) and the Portland Mercury (#2), Sierra Club, Portland DSA and Portland for All

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 3

RANK 1 or 2

Angelita Morillo

WHY RANK HER

Angelita got her start answering Portlanders' calls in Commissioner Jo Ann Hardesty's office. On the council she wrote the ban on rent-setting software that lets landlords coordinate prices, passed a fee on landlords who lease to immigration detention facilities, and restored $2.3 million for non-police crisis response and violence prevention.

- Renters first
- Crisis help without police
- Protecting immigrant neighbors

2,398 small-donor gifts 95% were $100 or less

0 of 203 named donors also gave to Republicans or Portland conservatives

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 3

RANK
1 or 2

What Angelita has done

- Renters. Wrote the ban on rent-setting software that lets landlords coordinate prices. Passed 8–2.
- Immigrant neighbors. Passed a fee on landlords who lease to immigration detention facilities. Passed 9–2.
- Crisis response. Restored $2.3 million for non-police crisis response and the Office of Violence Prevention.
- More housing. Co-sponsored, with Councilor Zimmerman, a plan to cut red tape and speed up housing construction.
- Police accountability. Voted to keep $10 million in the oversight office voters created.

WHY BIG MONEY WANTS HER OUT

She took on landlords' rent-pricing software and voted no on public money for the Blazers arena. The Chamber-aligned United for Portland is backing her opponents.

the Portland Mercury (#1), Sierra Club, Portland DSA and Portland for All

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 3

RANK 3rd

Esther León

WHY RANK HER

A physical therapist who works with people in Oregon's prisons, Esther is running to make Portland Street Response a 24/7 service, build social housing, and favor supportive housing over overnight-only shelters.

> "life doesn't have to be this way"
> — ESTHER LEÓN

24/7 Street Response

Social housing

Clean energy money for clean energy

Holds a doctorate in physical therapy and teaches at the community college level. Wants Blazers arena money to come with a guaranteed return for the public.

ENDORSED BY

Sierra Club and Portland for All (#3); honorable mention from the Portland Mercury

383 small-donor gifts 98% were $100 or less

0 of 6 named donors also gave to Republicans or Portland conservatives

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 4

RANK 1st

Mitch Green

WHY RANK HIM

An economist and Army veteran, Mitch put $17.5 million in unspent housing money toward Portland's first social housing loan fund, fought to keep 55 city jobs, and stood up for the voter-approved Preschool for All tax.

> "permanently affordable housing built for people, not portfolios"
> — MITCH GREEN

2,533 small-donor gifts 95% were $100 or less

0 of 227 named donors also gave to Republicans or Portland conservatives

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 4

RANK 1st

What Mitch has done

- Social housing. Put $17.5 million in unspent housing money toward a loan fund for permanently affordable homes.
- City jobs. Fought to keep 55 city jobs; a package saving about 30 of them then passed 10–2.
- Renters. Co-sponsored the rent-setting software ban.
- Preschool for All. Stood up for the voter-approved preschool tax.
- Police accountability. Voted to keep $10 million in the oversight office voters created.

WHY BIG MONEY WANTS HIM OUT

Billboards attacking him are paid for through a Chamber-aligned committee. Even Willamette Week says "business interests would love to expel him from office."

ENDORSED BY

the Portland Mercury (#1), Sierra Club, Portland DSA and Portland for All

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 4

RANK 2nd

Jamey Evenstar

WHY RANK HER

Jamey spent a decade on City Hall staff, working on tenant protections and the Rose Lane bus projects for Commissioner Chloe Eudaly and helping set up Portland's new form of government. A mother of five who rides transit every day.

> "could hit the ground running right away"
> — PORTLAND MERCURY

Tenant protections

Faster, cheaper transit

Making the new government work

Most recently chief of staff to Councilor Candace Avalos.

ENDORSED BY

the Portland Mercury (#2), Portland for All, Sierra Club, Street Trust Action Fund and Building Power for Communities of Color

662 small-donor gifts 95% were $100 or less

0 of 35 named donors also gave to Republicans or Portland conservatives

PORTLAND CITY COUNCIL · DISTRICT 4

RANK 3rd

Jeremy Beausoleil Smith

WHY RANK HIM

A construction manager who builds projects for Portland State University, Jeremy is running on a renters' bill of rights, Portland Street Response around the clock, and a publicly controlled power grid.

> "I'll fight to lower costs and make life easier."
> — JEREMY BEAUSOLEIL SMITH

- Renters' bill of rights
- 24/7 Street Response
- Public power

The Mercury praised his "passion and clear values."

ENDORSED BY

Portland for All (#3) and PSU's faculty union; honorable mention from the Portland Mercury

1,115 small-donor gifts 98% were $100 or less

1 of 17 named donors also gave to Portland conservative campaigns; none to Republicans.

MULTNOMAH COUNTY CHAIR

RANK 1st

Shannon Singleton

WHY RANK HER

A social worker who has spent her career on housing, Shannon led the nonprofit JOIN and was interim director of the county's homeless services office. As a commissioner she won money for eviction defense lawyers and fair-housing investigations, and got the stalled Walnut Park redevelopment moving.

> "I want to serve where I can make the most change."
> — SHANNON SINGLETON

Only 2 of 172 named donors also gave to Republicans or Portland conservatives.

MULTNOMAH COUNTY CHAIR

RANK 1st

What Shannon has done

- Eviction defense. Won county money for eviction defense lawyers, legal help at the courthouse and peer navigators.
- Fair housing. Added $128,000 for fair-housing investigations in East County.
- Summer jobs. Helped add 57 more youth to the county's SummerWorks program.
- Walnut Park. Got the stalled Albina redevelopment moving.
- Keeping people housed. Hosts the county's Eviction Prevention Table.

WHY BIG MONEY WANTS HER OUT

Big donors lined up behind her opponent, who had raised more than six times as much by July.

ENDORSED BY

the Portland Mercury, Portland for All, Portland Association of Teachers and Sierra Club

People-powered, not donor-powered.

We recommend candidates who stand up for renters, city services and the police accountability office voters created, and whose donors don't overlap with Republican campaigns.

Our council picks run on small gifts: 95–98% of their small-donor gifts were $100 or less, through the city's Small Donor Elections program. We checked every named donor against Oregon campaign finance records. The method is on our Receipts page.
